Says Schools Will Seek

Re-evaluation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers predicted Wednesday that as a result of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger's latest opinion on the U.S. Supreme Court position on racial balance in schools, a lot of school districts would probably ask the courts for re-evaluation of their cases.

Burger said in the opinion that the court did not require a fixed racial balance in the schools. He said lower courts were misinterpreting the opinion if they ordered busing in the belief that such a balance was required.

The pivotal court ruling on racial balance came in the case of Swann vs. Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education from North Carolina. The justices unanimously upheld a busing plan that had been intended in that case to achieve the same racial balance in each school at Charlotte, N.C.

Bumpers said that what Burger said in his decision was exactly what the governor had interpreted the Charlotte-Mecklenburg decision April 20 to say — that racial balance is not required in every school in a community.

Burger said Tuesday that federal judges were misreading the decision if they assumed the court has ordered a racial balance in each school.

The governor said "apparent confusion" at the national level over the status of busing was an indication "of some minds of the people who came up with the idea in the first place."

He said there was an apparent lack of leadership at the national level and that the confusion could have a "serious dilatory" effect on education.

Supt. Floyd Parsons of the Little Rock School District speculated Wednesday that the district might find a possible basis for appeal of lower court rulings on the district's desegregation plan.

However, Philip E. Kaplan of the Little Rock law firm that handled the case of the plaintiffs against the Little Rock School Board, said the plaintiffs never contended that any precise figure had to be set for a racial balance in the district.

Kaplan said that as he understood the Supreme Court's position, desegregation had to take place in every school in a district where separate schools for blacks and whites had developed as a result of local government policy promoting segregation. The court has permitted a racial balance to achieve an end to such dual school arrangements, he said.

Jim Johnson, formerly associate justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court and the 1968 Democratic nominee for governor, said the Supreme Court is in serious trouble.

"They have lost the public's confidence," said Johnson. "Their over-reaction to cases which had overtones of racial injustice has caught up with them. They are entangled in their own web of confusion over this matter of busing and it is strangling them to death."

Johnson said he thought the only way the Supreme Court could "be let off the hook and saved as an institution" is through adoption of amendments to the U.S. Constitution prohibiting busing to achieve racial integration.

Several Injured in Wreck Here

Several persons were injured, none believed serious, in a two-car collision about 1 a.m. Thursday on Highway 87 east at Dadds Avenue.

Investigating City Officers said cars driven by Jessie Lou Williams, Hope and Osborne A. Morris Jr., Lake Park, Fla. collided. Three persons in the Williams vehicle, Deborah Fries, Barbara L. Landes, and Thomas Williams, all of Hope and Osborne A. Morris Sr. of Florida, were treated for injuries at a local hospital.

Charges U.S. Burying Its Auto Probe

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the federal government of burying its investigations of alleged automobile brake failures, window explosions, engine dislocations and fires.

Nader said his list of 13 problems covering domestic and imported cars produced since 1967 was taken mostly from government files of closed or shelved investigations. He charged government officials considered the defects neither safety-related nor widespread.

A Chrysler Corp. spokesman denied Nader's charges of failures of the standard drum brakes on a wide range of the company's models.

"We are aware of no brake problems in Chrysler products which we have not recalled and fixed," Chrysler said Wednesday. "We have received no communication from the government at all."

The problems Nader contends are safety defects but which he says the government has failed to act on include:

—Poor engine mounts on 1966-1969 Chevrolets which, Nader said, can lead to the throttle sticking open as well as failure of power brakes and steering when the engine lurches forward.

—Alleged failure of Chevrolet Corvair clutch cables leading to loss of control. Nader said General Motors repaired 40,000 clutch cables under warranty.

—Tendency of a plug on quadrajet carburetors in 1966 GM cars to fall out, leading to engine fires.

—Gasoline tank spillage, presenting a fire hazard, which Nader said has been found on Ford LTDs and the 1969-70 Oldsmobile Cutlasses.

There Are Plenty of Remarks Average Wife Is Tired of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that any wife gets tired of hearing:

"Honey, I wouldn't trade you for a million dollars—but I wouldn't give a dime for another wife just like you."

"What if you don't have a thing worth wearing? A married woman isn't expected to look like a fashion model."

"Mom, I'm in a rush. Can you sew this button on real quick?"

"What do you need a cleaning woman for anyway? Any woman today ought to be able to do everything a modern house needs in a couple of hours a day."

"I wouldn't buy that one, Mother. It makes you look like you're trying to look too young."

"What do you mean—did I get down on my knees when I proposed to your mother? What happened was that she chased me until I ran out of wind. Isn't that the way it was, Madge?"

"Mom, I'm in a rush. If you don't drive me to school I'll be late."

"Other wives seem able to make out a household budget and live within it. Why can't you?"

"It's not my fault if I didn't pass. The teacher hates me. She can't stand the sight of me. You can ask any other kid in the class if that isn't true."

"Man, if I were only a bachelor again and had the money I make now and only myself to spend it on, I could really live

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu told a nationwide television audience tonight he intends to run as the only candidate in South Vietnam's Oct. 3 presidential election but will step down if he and his policies fail to win a vote of confidence from the people.

"I am responsible to the whole country," Thieu said. "To resign would be the act of an irresponsible man, a deserter trying to avoid his responsibilities."

"Such an act could severely damage the country, leaving the legal and constitutional regime vulnerable to the Communists."

19 Killed in Fighting Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 19 Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the highest weekly toll in seven weeks but still maintaining the lowest level of casualties in six years.

Another 97 Americans were wounded, and four died from such nonhostile causes such as accidents and illness.

The South Vietnamese Command reported 289 government troops killed in action and 585 wounded. The two allied commands claimed 1,234 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed.

It was the seventh week in a row that the total of U.S. combat deaths was below 20. Ninety-eight Americans have died in action in that period, a weekly average of 14 compared to an average of 36 for this year and 278 three years ago.

The continuing low level of U.S. casualties reflects the steady withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam and the defensive posture that most of the 219,000 troops still here have moved into, leaving the heavy fighting to the South Vietnamese.

Farm Crops in Area in Good Shape

Generally, the past week was good for agricultural producers in Southwest Arkansas. The open weather gave them a chance to get in their fields and get some much needed work done.

In a series of special crop reports by Agricultural Extension Service agents in the area, the following observations were made:

Good yields of alfalfa and Bermuda hay were being harvested in Miller County. Soybeans varied from excellent to poor; some were lost from excessive water in July.

White flies and cabbage loopers were reported in cotton fields in Little River County. Recent moisture has improved the setting of pods on soybeans. Some sorghum was being combined. Peanuts have a good potential yield.

About 200 acres of green beans were planted in Sevier County. Grass hay is making excellent yields where it was fertilized.

The condition of cattle in Hempstead County was greatly improved over a few weeks ago. Soybeans were fruiting well and all hay was making a good yield.

The dry weather allowed farmers to make cotton insecticide applications on schedule in Nevada County. Farmers were cutting and baling hay in all parts of the county. Yields were extremely good on improved meadows.

Texarkana Dog Is Hero of the Year

CHICAGO, Sept. 2—Champ, an aptly-named German shepherd from Texarkana, Ark., today was named winner of third place in the competition for the Ken-L Ration gold medal, awarded annually to the dog selected as America's Dog Hero of the Year.

Champ rescued his mistress, Denise Stacks, 6, after the girl had been attacked by a vicious hog that had invaded her back yard and was mauling and biting her. Although the dog was tethered on a long leash, Denise, fortunately, fell where Champ could reach her, and he managed to seize the animal by the ear and pull it away from the badly injured girl.

Rushed to a local hospital, the child underwent lengthy surgery, but was able to return home a few days later. Although additional surgery was indicated, her recovery will be complete.

Champ will receive a silver third-place medal, a silver plaque, a silver-plated lead and collar, a dog blanket, and a six-month's supply of dog food. His owners will also receive $250 in U.S. bonds.

Scattered Showers Over State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers are forecast for Arkansas through Friday.

A large high pressure ridge covering the eastern third of the country will continue to push warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico into Arkansas, increasing the probability of precipitation.

Little change in temperature is expected through Friday.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 85 at Little Rock to 89 at Texarkana and Fort Smith. Highs Friday should be in the mid 80s to low 90s.

Lows tonight should be in the mid 70s.

N. Vietnam Troops Fight Worst Flood

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam has mobilized thousands of troops and civilians to fight the country's worst floods since World War II, Hanoi Radio reported today.

The broadcast made no mention of what effect the overflow of the Red and Thai Binh rivers, in the northern part of the country, might have on supplies and replacements for the Communist forces in South Vietnam. But it said food crops had been destroyed, roads washed out, and transportation and communications disrupted.

Premier Pham Van Dong said military and civilian forces have "in the main triumphed over the flood and warded off a big disaster." North Vietnam now "must concentrate all forces to overcome the consequences of the floods in agriculture and communications and transport," he declared. "All capabilities must be mobilized."

Dong called for increased cultivation of the winter crop in areas not hit by the high water and replanting in the stricken regions.

"On the communications and transport front," he continued, "we must restore the main roads to traffic in the shortest period of time, and mobilize all forces to make the fullest use of the paramount role of communications and transport in the present conditions of the national economy and the people's life."

"Another extremely urgent task is to give adequate care to the life of the people in the flood-stricken areas as regards food, housing and disease prevention."

Dong made no mention of casualties, nor did he give any damage estimates. But he said the flood, which was spawned by monsoon rains, was "even bigger than that of 1945 which was a catastrophe."

"Floodwaters from upstream have caused the water in the entire system of the Red River and Thai Binh River to rise to an unprecedented level, while heavy downpours in the delta caused added difficulties for the defense of the dike system," Dong said. "The water level remains high and the weather may change abruptly."

Dong spoke at a rally in Hanoi celebrating the 26th anniversary today of the founding of North Vietnam.

Southeast Asia's biggest river, the Mekong, has flooded parts of Laos and Thailand, but the crest has not made its way down to Cambodia and South Vietnam yet.

Charge Filed in Shooting Near Ashdown

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Herbert Hawn Jr., 33, of Little Rock was charged Wednesday with murder in connection with the shooting death last Friday of Harold E. Cranor, 26, of near Ashdown.

The charge was filed by Deputy Pros. Atty. Robert M. Cearly. Hawn was released without bond.

Hawn told police that he found Cranor tampering with his car and was attempting to hold the man for police when he broke and ran. Hawn said he fired one shot at Cranor with a .38-caliber pistol.

No Special Sessions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Wednesday that he did not have present plans to call a special session of the Arkansas Legislature.

The governor said "two or three" problems had arisen that a special session could help solve but he said they were not of a magnitude to warrant the calling of a special session. He did not identify the problems.

Latins Plan Surcharge in Retaliation

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are viewing with some apprehension evidence of Latin American backlash to President Nixon's 10-per-cent surcharge on imports.

Of particular concern to officials here is a meeting of Latin American finance ministers, scheduled to start Friday in Buenos Aires, at which hemispheric nations will attempt to establish a common front on the surcharge issue.

Official estimates show that only 22 per cent of goods imported to the United States from Latin America are affected by the surcharge. But hemispheric diplomats charge it is unfair to apply the surcharge against an area with which the United States has enjoyed a substantial trade surplus for years.

During the first six months of 1971, the surplus was in excess of $350 million, according to official statistics.

In addition, there is a consensus among Latin American diplomats here that the surcharge constitutes a retreat from Nixon administration promises to lower trade barriers to hemispheric products. A Nixon proposal for generalized trade preferences for the products of developing nations, announced 22 months ago, still has not been introduced in Congress by the administration.

Diplomatic sources say the State Department quietly sought to discourage the meeting of hemispheric finance ministers, which is being carried out under auspices of the Special Commission for Latin American Coordination.

The meeting was proposed by Argentine President Alejandro A. Lanusse, who urged adoption of a common front by Latin American nations in the face of United States policies which "gravely affect" their respective economies.

Other officials in Argentina, 70 per cent of whose exports would be affected by the surcharge, say the Lanusse government is prepared to take retaliatory action against U.S. imports.

The United States had a trade surplus of $269.7 million with Argentina last year.

AP News Digest

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu was expected to announce today that the presidential election will be held Oct. 3 with himself as the only candidate, but that he will step down if the vote is so small that he interprets it as one of no confidence.

Informed sources made this disclosure after they said they were given a general outline of Thieu's taped broadcast shortly before it was to be televised.

Thieu has had no comment on the election since Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh withdrew, charging that Thieu had rigged the race in his favor.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the federal government of burying its investigations of alleged automobile brake failures, window explosions, engine dislocations and fires. He charged that government officials considered the defects neither safety-related nor widespread.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report today on wholesale prices could give the first inkling of how President Nixon's wage-price freeze is working. The Labor Department report covers August wholesale prices of food and a broad range of industrial raw materials and manufactured goods.

Meanwhile, organized labor's chief spokesman, George Meany, gave the first direct hint he is willing to bargain with the White House over post wage-price freeze plans.

NEW YORK (AP) — Immigration officials called a special inquiry today to decide whether Joe Cahill, head of the militant provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army, will be allowed to enter the United States.

McClellan Praises Local Government

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said here Wednesday that out-of-state industry was turning to Arkansas for the location of new facilities because there is good state and local government.

He said that state and local officials were eager to cooperate with industries which locate in Arkansas.

McClellan, who was the principal speaker at groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Globe-Union battery case manufacturing plant at Texarkana, also said that Arkansians like to work and take pride in what they do and more industries were finding that people in the state "did a day's work for a day's pay."

The new $3 million plant is expected to be in operation in early 1972. About 80 persons will be employed initially.

Gov. Dale Bumpers also spoke briefly at the event.

Refugee Fears He May Have to Return

By ISAAC M. FLORES
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Tomas, a skinny red-faced farmer from Cuba, arrived here on one of the last refugee flights and was despondent about the family he left behind. He was fearful that he may have to return.

"If Castro will not let my wife and children out, I must go back," Tomas said Wednesday. "I must find a way to go back. We cannot remain separated, maybe forever ... What will happen to them?"

Tomas, who did not want his last name used, typified some of the confusion and despair of Miami's "Little Havana" in the wake of the abrupt suspension of the "freedom flights" by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

One of the main reasons given by political observers for the stoppage of the twice-a-day shuttle flights is that the island is losing much of its work force.

In the early years of the Cuban exodus, many arrivals were of the upper and middle classes and included professionals—doctors, lawyers and engineers. But the Cuban Refugee Program reports that of the 245,805 refugees who have arrived since Dec. 1, 1965, when the project began, 26 per cent are in skilled worker, managerial, professional and clerical worker categories.

Semiskilled personnel comprised 4.1 per cent of the total, some 3.2 per cent were in the service occupations, 2 per cent were farmers or fishermen and the largest category—64.4 per cent—were children, students and housewives.

"The number of cars potentially affected by the specific design defects listed in this letter is well into the millions," Nader said. "For example, there are perhaps four million Chevrolets on the roads today with potentially dangerous motor mounts. And at least as many General Motors cars are equipped with power-assisted brakes that may fail without notice."

Nader made his charges in a letter to Douglas Toms, director of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The agency confirmed it has conducted no tests since 1968 to make sure steering columns collapse. An NHTSA spokesman said, however, the agency has studied steering columns in actual crashes and is convinced they are working.

To Manuela Carbo, Castro's unilateral action meant that he had finally conceded the country was in trouble and that "he is willing to destroy lives in attempts to resolve his problems."

Mrs. Carbo knows "the horrible repression of the Communist regime" first hand. She spent six years in a Cuban political prison for sabotage and other counter-revolutionary activities. The 49-year-old widow arrived in this country aboard a refugee flight in May 1967.

To Carlos Arboleya, who arrived in Miami a penniless immigrant in 1960 and rose to become president of a bank, it means that "the United States has kept its word and Fidel has broken his."

Americans Involved in Greek Plot

By PHILIP DOPPOULOS
Associated Press Writer
ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Greek government says four persons, including the Greek widow of the discoverer of penicillin and two Americans, have admitted plotting to rescue a Greek serving a life sentence for trying to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos.

A government spokesman said those arrested were Lady Amalia Fleming, 55-year-old widow of the Scottish scientist Sir Alexander Fleming; John Skelton, a 28-year-old theology student from Yardley, Pa.; Athina Psychoyiou, a Greek-American divorcee; and a Greek named Constantine Androustopoulos.

Government spokesman Byron Stamatopoulos told a news conference all four had made statements "incriminating themselves and confirming the escape plan."

He said they were arrested early Tuesday as they approached the suburban prison housing Alexander Panagoulis. Panagoulis, 32, was condemned to death in November 1968 for an attempt three months earlier to kill Greece's military premier, but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment following protests from abroad.

Stamatopoulos said the four would be tried by a military court following a brief investigation. The maximum sentence possible is five years imprisonment.

The spokesman said the government learned of the escape plan by intercepting correspondence between Panagoulis and his brother, who came to Athens recently from Rome. He said Panagoulis planned to drug his guard with sleeping pills in a soft drink and then escape in the darkness over the fence of the military police training center where he was held. Lady Fleming was to drive the getaway car, Stamatopoulos said.

He said Panagoulis tried to insure the plan by bribing a guard, but the guard tipped off

U.S. Missile System Faces New Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $8-billion Safeguard antiballistic missile system, hit hard by inflation which has forced a year's construction delay at a major Montana site, faces a new cost-cutting fight in the Senate.

Senate critics plan to try limiting spending to two ABM based at Grand Forks, N.D., and Great Falls, Mont., and eliminating all money for two other sites.

They are buoyed by speculation that the strategic arms limitation talks may produce an agreement permitting two U.S. ABM bases and a Russian ABM shield around Moscow.

Work is already stalled at Great Falls where the government, for a second time, has turned down the construction proposals as too costly. Army engineers say the Montana winter will keep the project halted until next spring.

The Senate is expected to begin its annual ABM battle at the end of September when it takes up the 1972 military authorization bill containing $1.1 billion for Safeguard.

The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved actual construction money only for Great Falls and Grand Forks, with preliminary site funds earmarked for Warrensburg, Mo., and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., lost a bid in committee to delete the money for the Missouri and Wyoming sites, but a Symington aide said Wednesday the fight will be renewed on the Senate floor.

A similar move failed 53 to 45 last year after the entire Safeguard program had barely escaped defeat in a dramatic 51-50 vote in 1969.

The half-finished Grand Forks base is scheduled to be operational in the fall of 1974. Its radar system and the Spartan and Sprint missiles have passed a series of tests in the Pacific with flying colors.

But the Great Falls project is caught in an inflation-cost squeeze that has stalled all work since land-clearing was finished last March.

Impressed With Prison Developments

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Legislative Council Committee on Charitable, Penal and Correctional Institutions say they are impressed with developments at Cummins Prison Farm and Correctional Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto.

Members of the committee toured Cummins earlier this week and will tour the Tucker Intermediate Reformatory Friday.

"I want to really compliment that man," said Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott. "To me, he's doing a good job, an excellent job." Hendrix is chairman of the committee.

Rep. L. L. "Doc" Bryan of Russellville, a committee member, said Hutto had made a "tremendous impression" on him.

Bryan said he was "amazed" at the progress that has been made in the last year.

Hutto, formerly assistant warden of the Texas penal system, was hired as commissioner this year by Gov. Dale Bumpers after the state Board of Correction fired former Commissioner Robert Sarver.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge denied today a request for a court order to bring the Nixon administration's wage-price freeze to an immediate end.

Judge Aubrey E. Robinson Jr. said the constitutional questions raised by four Catholic University professors in their suit are "substantial," but held that on the basis of information filed with him thus far he has no jurisdiction to hear their case.

He gave lawyers for the professors and the government 10 days in which to file additional information on the question of jurisdiction. At that time, Robinson said, he will decide whether to convene a three-judge federal panel to look into the constitutional questions.

Robinson announced his decision following an hour-long hearing on the first legal challenge to the administration's new economic policies to reach a court.

The question of whether the court has jurisdiction seemed to hinge on whether the professors could prove they had suffered irreparable damage from the Economic Stabilization Act which authorized the freeze and President Nixon's executive order which carried it out.

The professors claim the freeze halts raises to which they were entitled under a new contract with the university. They also contend that the legislation is unconstitutional because it delegates legislative authority to the executive branch.

The government claims that since the administration has taken no action to invoke the act's enforcement machinery against the professors then they cannot claim irreparable harm.

The government also argued that the legislation is constitutional, contending that such measures as a wage-price freeze were envisioned by Congress when it passed the act.

The administration's economic moves, announced by President Nixon Aug. 15, have been challenged this week in several other court suits.

Christian Church Labor Day Planned

In observance of Labor Day the First Christian Church of Hope has declared Sunday September 5 as 'Come As You Work' Sunday.

It has been suggested that members and friends of the church attend the Church school and Worship services dressed in the clothes that they wear at work.

This means school children would wear school clothes, nurses their nursing uniforms, housewives their house dresses or work clothes, and men their work apparel. The reason behind this special day is the desire to lift up and pay honor to the various occupations at which those worshipping labor. This service is also designated to put proper emphasis on Labor Day which will be Monday.

Gaylon L. Decious is the minister.

Needlepoint

For you do-it-yourselfers, get out that needlepoint. Besides pillows and art for framing, you can make interesting needlepoint tote bags that you've designed yourself.

Moss Rowe, organist, played a program of pre-nuptial music. The ceremony was concluded with the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in unison, the lighting of the unity candle, and as the bride and groom were leaving the altar the church bells rang.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white satin with all over lace, accented by an empire waistline. The wedding ring necklace and the cuffs of the bishop sleeves were trimmed with seed pearls. A petaled headpiece held a nearly floor length veil made of the same lace as used in the dress. The veil was trimmed with chantilly lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white stephanotis white daisies and frenched carnations combined in a victorian nosegay and caught up with white ribbon tied in love knots.

Mrs. Hugh Barnhart of Bastrop, La. was her sister's matron of honor. Her floor length gown was of yellow crepe with an empire waistline trimmed with white lace and small white and yellow daisies. She carried a nosegay designed similar to the brides of white and yellow daisies and frenched yellow carnations against the background of an old-fashioned doily.

The flower girl Susan Worthey, niece of the bride, also wore a floor length yellow crepe dress with white and yellow trim. Her basket was also trimmed with the same lace as on her dress.

Jeff Barnhart of Bastrop, La., nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Debbie Johnson, niece of the groom presided over the guest book.

Tom Sharpley of Hope served his brother as best man.

Mike Worthey, nephew of the bride, was candle lighter.

Ushers were Troy Watson, brother of the bride, and Frank Worthey, brother-in-law of the bride, both of Hope.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Watson wore a beige lace dress with matching accessories, and Mrs. Shapley, mother of the groom wore a blue knit and black accessories. Each had a corsage of a single white japhet orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Shapley will make their home at 312 West 5th St. in Hope.

MRS. JAMES C. FOUSE

The marriage of Miss Virginia Frances Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Norma Patterson, of El Dorado, and the late Thomas Judson Patterson, and James Carney Fouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Fouse of Hope, was solemnized Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church of El Dorado.

Claude E. Love, minister of the Christian Church, performed the double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with a 15-branched candelabrum, which held a sunburst of white gladioli and orchid, purple and pink asters. Two columns of white urns holding matching flowers and two nine-branched candle trees completed the setting. White satin bows and greenery marked the pews.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Gordon M. Betenbaugh, who played "St. Anthony Choral", "God of Our Fathers", and "All Creatures of Our God and King", and Mrs. John Halbert of Arkadelphia, who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "Eternal Life".

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Tommy Patterson, wore an Empire gown of white, silk organza and Chantilly lace designed with a scalloped pattern down the front. The slightly flared skirt was overlaid with lace, which formed the chapel train. The fitted bodice was adorned with lace and pearls and Chantilly lace formed the deep cuffs of the applied, puff sleeves. Seed pearls outlined the scooped neckline. Her veil of French illusion fell from a double bow outlined in pearls. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, a gift from her grandmother. She carried a colonial nosegay of white roses and carnations centered by an orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jenny Welch Blair and bridesmaids were Miss Ann Long, Miss Carol Ann Crabtree and Miss Carolyn Moore, all of Little Rock. They were attired in Victorian gowns of orchid chiffon with fitted bodices of deep purple georgette lace and full sleeves of chiffon with lace cuffs. Their headresses were small mantillas of georgette lace enhanced with purple bows and long streamers. They each carried a colonial bouquet of purple, orchid and pink asters with long streamers.

Joe C. Fouse served his brother as best man. Ushers were Sgt. Raymond Weber of Little Rock, Cpt. Joe Calhoun of Fort Hood, Tex., and William Reinhardt of Magnolia. Lisa Lynn Patterson and Sheri Love Patterson, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Candles were lighted by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Griffin of Searcy.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Patterson wore a mauve-pink, street-length dress of crepe with a jeweled neckline and matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a yellow, street-length ensemble fashioned with long sleeves and a jeweled neckline and accented with matching accessories. They each had a white orchid corsage.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Television and Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The blind "watch" a lot of television, says actor James Franciscus, who learned about the habits of the sightless as he prepared to play a blind man.

"It's not complicated," the star of ABC's new "Longstreet" series explained. "They can hear the dialogue and with their keen hearing, they can follow much of the action by the sound of footsteps, deduce locations by the way sound bounces off walls, interpret the meaning of closing doors and starting motors. Besides, there is usually a sighted person around to clue them in from time to time."

Franciscus, a slight blond man whose last successful TV series was "Mr. Novak," plays Mike Longstreet, a crack insurance investigator blinded in an explosion that killed his wife.

"This fellow is far more out of reach for me than Novak, a teacher, ever was," the actor said. "It is taking me a long time to really get into him."

Franciscus said that after the pilot sold as a series, he "put on a blindfold for 24 hours to get the feeling. It was easy enough to make my way around familiar surroundings, but once I was outside, I was completely lost."

He worked with the blind at a school, learning the correct way to use a cane. But the greatest help came from talks with the blind students.

"I learned what made a good day for them or a bad day," he explained. "I learned what were compensating factors for their loss. Later I went to San Raphael near San Francisco and worked with the guide dogs."

Eventually Franciscus wrote, for his own guidance as much as to help the assortment of script writers and directors, a five-page biography of the man he proposed to play.

Hope Star SPORTS Showdown at Ashdown Friday Night

By BILL MOORE,
Star Sports Writer

With the blastoff nearing quickly, the Hope Bobcats are quickly polishing up on all phases of the game for their opener tomorrow night at Ashdown.

Rain shortened drills yesterday but the Cats put in about an hour of work and the adrenalin is really beginning to flow.

Ashdown will come into the game against the Bobcats with 12 lettermen, including five starters, to lead the way.

Senior Mike Carroll, a 6-4, 185 pound quarterback, will guide the Panther offensive attack, while going at defensive safety also. Most of Carroll's aerials will be directed to David Pickett, a 180 pound senior end.

Two way starter Russell Daniel, a center and linebacker, will see action at both positions in his 6-1, 185 pound frame. Relief duty on snapping chores could come from Cliff Avant, a 175 pound junior.

One more offensive lineman returns in Mack Scott, a 180 pound senior tackle that stands 6-2 and also sees action on defense. Bobby Thrash, a senior guard, will also see duty.

Burl Foster and Jimmy Welch, a noseguard and halfback respectively, will be two of the defensive stalwarts for the Panthers. Foster is a 190 pound senior while Welch weighs 140 pounds in his 5-10 frame.

Fullback Mark Pickett, a 185 pound junior, should help Ashdown's running game with Scotty Thrash, Tommy Thrash, and Larry Joyce bolstering the secondary.

One of the big questions is whether or not Ashdown is as good as everyone thinks. And of course the same goes for Hope.

Both teams will surely be high and itching for the taste of victory, but while I say that I predict a 27-7 victory for the Bobcats, don't be surprised if Ashdown is not able to score either. While Hope's offense will be able to put the points on the board, the defense should prove to be about the best in the league. Tomorrow we'll see though—for sure!

Hope Rated Winner by Touchdown

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Stuttgart Coach Max Graham will go to great lengths to avoid an open date.

This year, he may have gone too far.

Graham has scheduled Fort Smith Northside as the Ricebirds' season opener. Northside is ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press preseason poll. Stuttgart and El Dorado share the No. 10 spot in the poll.

"People must think I'm crazy to schedule a team of Northside's caliber," Graham said. "But we had a schedule to fill and there weren't enough Class AA teams that wanted to play us. I'd rather play anyone than have an open date."

Stuttgart went 9-4 last season, defeating Arkadelphia in the finals of the Class AA state playoff.

"We'll find out real quick just how good we're going to be this year," Graham said. "Regardless of the Northside score, it should make us better prepared for our conference games."

Graham had said his team could be improved over last year if he could find a quarterback. It appeared that Jeff Teague would fill the bill, but Teague was injured recently in a scrimmage and may be out for the season. The quarterback possibilities are Keith Thomas, a good passer, and Jerry Bogard, a 5-foot-8 scrambler.

Northside's attack centers around Roger Carter, a 6-foot-2, 197-pound running back with speed. Northside Coach Charles Presley says he expects the Grizzlies' attack to be more balanced than in 1970 when Carter carried the ball more than 240 times.

Carter, with a little help from his friends, should be too much for the ambitious Ricebirds.

NORTHSIDE, 17, STUTTGART 7.
Little Rock Hall and Little Rock Parkview meet Friday night in another important season opener. Hall is ranked second in the preseason poll, Parkview third.

Hall is Northside's most likely challenger in AAAA and, in some quarters, Parkview is picked to unseat Hot Springs as champions in AAA-West.

Hall lost 27 lettermen via graduation, but C. W. Keopple always seems to find replacements.

FIRST THREE PITCHERS IN the major leagues to record 20 wins this season were Vida Blue of Oakland, Mickey Lolich of Detroit and Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs. For Jenkins, it was the fifth straight 20-game season, while for both Lolich and Blue, the Athletics' rookie sensation, it was their first time in the charmed circle.

Seaver Beats Gibson for Third Time

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Seaver, the New York Mets' pitching ace, had taken Bob Gibson and the Law into his own hands.

The smooth-working right-hander became the first pitcher to beat Gibson, the great St. Louis veteran, three times in one season since Vernon Law of Pittsburgh did it in 1959 by taming the Cardinals 7-1 on four hits Wednesday night.

"He wasn't the real Bob Gibson tonight," conceded Seaver. "But, he's still one of the best pitchers in baseball. I don't think I've ever seen anybody work any harder."

Despite Seaver's praise, Gibson has been erratic this season, winning only 13 and losing 12, although pitching the first no-hitter of his illustrious career. And, instead, it has been Seaver who has developed into one of the game's outstanding pitchers.

The victory was his fifth in a row and gave him a 16-8 record for the year. He also lowered his earned run average to 1.92, best in the National League, and struck out seven, increasing his league-leading total to 233.

Meanwhile, San Diego's Dave Roberts, National League runner-up in ERA, fired a five-hitter as the Padres defeated Cincinnati 3-1; Pittsburgh outslugged Philadelphia 10-7; Los Angeles walloped Houston 9-2; San Francisco blanked Atlanta 4-0; and Chicago topped Montreal 5-2 after losing the completion of a suspended game 11-2.

In the American League, it was Baltimore 8, Boston 2; Detroit 4, Cleveland 3; Milwaukee 3, Kansas City 2; Chicago 2, Minnesota 0 in 11 innings; Washington 2, New York 0, and Oakland 7, California 0.

Seaver, the winner of the 1969 Cy Young Award as the National League's outstanding pitcher and a strong candidate again this year, has allowed only four runs in his last 54 innings of work and compiled a glittering 1.14 ERA since the All-Star break.

It was Seaver's 18th complete game and his third against Gibson and the Cardinals. "But I always manage to lose the shutout somewhere along the way," he quipped. "I give up a home run or I do something."

Wednesday, he lost it in the ninth when Ted Sizemore doubled and scored on Joe Torre's single.

But by that time, the Mets were comfortably ahead. They had belted Gibson for 11 hits and six runs in 6 2-3 innings, and added a run off Stan Williams, making his first appearance for St. Louis, in the eighth. Duffy Dyer and Ken Boswell each drove in two Met runs.

San Diego's hardworking left-hander, won his 12th game with his second five hitter in two starts against Cincinnati this season. The only run off him was unearned and came with two out in the ninth.

After Hal McRae opened the Reds' ninth with a double, Roberts retired the next two batters, but Johnny Bench was safe on an error by third baseman Gary Jastadt and George Foster blooped a run-scoring single.

The hard-luck Roberts, who has lost 14, now has a 1.99 ERA.

Nate Colbert's RBI single in the first inning and Ollie Brown's two-run double in the top of the ninth produced the Padres' runs.

Pittsburgh's Luke Walker also turned in an outstanding pitching effort. He entered the Pirates game against Philadelphia in the fourth inning and checked the Phils on one run and two hits the rest of the way.

"I prefer to start," said Walker, who has been in Manager Danny Murtaugh's doghouse. "But my name has been popping up in the bullpen lately and I don't mind the work." He has won two games in the last three days.

Manny Sanguillen belted a two-run homer for the Pirates, who shelled four Philadelphia pitchers for 13 hits. Ron Stone and Deron Johnson each homered with one on for the Phils.

Los Angeles backed Don Sutton's four-hit, 12-strikeout pitching against Houston with an eight-run uprising in the second inning. Richie Allen's two-run single keyed the big inning in which the Dodgers sent 13 batters to the plate.

John Cumberland, a former American League pitcher, pitched his second shutout for San Francisco, stopping Atlanta on four innings.

Finally Wins Game at Boston

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I had them mixed up real well tonight," Mike Cuellar was saying. Everyone assumed he was talking about Boston's hitters—but the Baltimore left-hander was referring to his own pitches.

"I had a good fast ball, a good curve and a good change-up. The curve was really good," Cuellar said after he baffled the Red Sox batters with a six-hitter and coasted to an 8-2 victory Wednesday night.

It was his first ever in Boston's cozy Fenway Park, making him a winner in every American League stadium. Cuellar says he's pretty sure he's won in every National League park, too—if you don't count San Diego and Montreal, which didn't come into the majors until 1969, the year Cuellar came to Baltimore after four seasons in Houston.

In Wednesday night's other American League action, the Chicago White Sox beat Minnesota 2-0 in 11 innings, Milwaukee edged Kansas City 3-2, Detroit nipped Cleveland 4-3, Oakland topped California 7-0 and, in an afternoon game, Washington zipped the New York Yankees 2-0.

In the National League, Montreal completed an 11-2 victory in a game suspended by darkness Tuesday before the Chicago Cubs won the regularly scheduled game against the Expos 5-2, San Diego defeated Cincinnati 3-1, Pittsburgh outlasted Philadelphia 10-7, the New York Mets belted St. Louis 7-1, Los Angeles bombed Houston 9-2 and San Francisco blanked Atlanta 4-0.

Left-handers, intimidated by the "Green Monster," the short left field wall, generally fare poorly at Fenway. And Cuellar was no exception. But, he recalled, "When I came out here tonight, I said to myself: 'Well, I've got to win here some time...!'"

He did it to tie teammate Pat Dobson with 17 victories. And he did it with a baffling assortment of pitches that had the Sox limited three hits—including Carl Yastrzemski's run-scoring single—through eight innings before they nicked him for three more and their other hits.

The Giants scored twice in the first inning on Tito Fuentes' single, a fielding error by left fielder Ralph Garr, Bobby Bonds' run-producing single, a throwing error by Garr and Willie McCovey's sacrifice fly.

They added two runs in the third on a double by McCovey, Alan Gallagher's RBI single, an error by catcher Earl Williams and Chris Speier's single.

Ferguson Jenkins, the National League's biggest winner, gained his 21st victory for the Cubs with a six-hitter in the regularly scheduled game against Montreal. Jenkins also drove in three runs with two homers, his third and fourth of the season.

In the completion of the suspended game, the Expos' Mike Marshall posted his 18th save of the season with three innings of two-hit relief. The game was suspended Tuesday with Montreal leading 8-1 after six innings.

THE CAROLINA COUGARS HAVE NEW COACH
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association held a news luncheon today to present their new coach, player and poet Tom Meschery, veteran of 10 seasons in the National Basketball Association.

News of Meschery's appointment leaked out Wednesday but today's luncheon, already scheduled for the official announcement, was held anyway.

Carl Scheer, president and general manager of the Cougars, and Tedd Munchack, board chairman, confirmed the appointment.

The 32-year-old Meschery, who makes his home in Truckee, Calif., succeeds Jerry Steele, who resigned in August.

SPORT SHORTS
BOSTON (AP) — Milt Schmidt has signed a new two-year contract as general manager of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League.

The 53-year-old Hall of Fame player and former coach also will serve as general manager of the Boston club's new American Hockey League team, the Braves.

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Joe Ford, assistant basketball coach at Navy for the past two seasons, is the new head basketball coach at St. Anselm's College. He was named Wednesday to succeed Al Grenert, who resigned in July after 22 years in the post.

Officers in Carty Beating Are Fired

ATLANTA (SP) — Three policemen accused of beating Atlanta Braves outfielder Rico Carty were fired early today after a 7½-hour Aldermanic police committee hearing.

The committee found the officers guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer and dismissed them. The three, J.R. McEarchern, L.D. Smith and C.E. Turner, were accused of assaulting Carty and his brother-in-law, Carlos Ramirez, in a fracas Aug. 24.

"We knew we were fired before we went there," Turner told radio station WSB. "It was a railroad job from the word go."

"I believe we were done wrong," Smith said.

McEarchern testified at the hearing that Carty threw the first punch at the other two officers. He said Carty "went berserk. He'd gone mad."

Smith and Turner, off duty and in plain clothes that night, were said to have called the two black men "cop-killing niggers" and reportedly disappeared after the altercation.

McEarchern testified that he didn't know Smith or Turner before the incident and was not aware they were policemen. He said he had not told them they could leave, and that he had made 500 arrests as a policeman without anyone ever having gotten away before. Earlier in the trial Carty testified that he and Ramirez drove up to where McEarchern was parked on an Atlanta street to report that two white men in another car had called him a nigger.

He said the uniformed policeman struck Ramirez with a pistol and put him in the police car. Carty claims to have been beaten and kicked while lying on the ground.

The Braves' slugger, known as "The Beeg Boy" to his fans, said he didn't land any blows but wished he had.

He testified that since the fight his knee, injured last winter in a baseball game, "is clicking again." He also said his eye may be permanently damaged and that his ear hurts when he yawns.

Carty further testified that when he asked the uniformed officer for help, the policeman hit him in the face with a "slap jack." The officer told the other two white men to leave after the fight, Carty said.

Just before midnight Ramirez gave the same general testimony, speaking through an interpreter. Both Carty and Ramirez are from the Dominican Republic.

The three accused officers were suspended without pay after an investigation of the incident.

West, Haines Worlds Are Different

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Martin West III and George Haines come from different worlds but they cashed the same prize today—the 71st annual National Amateur Golf Championship.

The 23-year-old West held a two stroke lead over the 28-year-old Haines as they started the second of the four day, 72 hole tournament. West shot a first round four under par 67 and Haines a 69 over the 6,872-yard par 71 Wilmington Country Club Course Wednesday.

West is the son of an affluent District of Columbia family. Haines is a mathematics teacher at a small-town Quaker school in Pennsylvania. Both are startled by their positions in this most prestigious of amateur tournaments.

"I'm a little surprised, a little happy and a little thankful," West said after a one bogey, five birdie round that gave him the lead.

"I feel like a boxer pushed out of his corner by his manager when the bell rings, who doesn't wake up until he's been hit a couple of times," asserted Haines after carding four birdies and two bogeys for his two under performance.

Behind the stunned leaders comes a potent group of five dead-locked at one under par 70—Eddie Pearce of Temple Terrace, Fla.; four-time Canadian amateur champion Nick Weslock; Billy Hyndman, 55-year-old Walker Cup player of Philadelphia; Bob Boyle, 20-year-old University of South Carolina player, and Gary Cowan, the Canadian who won this tournament in 1966.

Haines comes from Far Hills, N.J., and in 1968 won the New Jersey state amateur championship.

Czech Upsets Top Seeded Newcombe

By KAROL STONGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Jan Kodes, the Czechoslovakia hard-court specialist who bowled over top-seeded John Newcombe on the West Side Tennis Club turf Wednesday, thinks his grass game is a joke but he doesn't like for anyone to say so.

"Everybody says I'm lousy on grass," said the 25-year-old Kodes after crushing Newcombe 2-6, 7-6, 6-3 in the first round of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, "but it makes me really mad because for us Europeans we don't get enough practice."

"I step on grass twice a year—at Wimbledon and here—so the pros have the advantage because they always play on grass."

But Kodes broke his twice-a-year habit, arriving in New York early for six days of practice, and it paid off. He became the first player in 41 years to eliminate the top seed in the first round and stage the day's only major upset.

"I couldn't find how to play the first two games," said Kodes, the French Open titlist, of his poor start. "But I won the second set and I started thinking I could win."

Kodes won the second set, as well as the third, in best-of-nine tie breaks. The final set was no contest.

"My service just didn't seem to have much steam in it," said a disappointed Newcombe, adding that Kodes was swinging at everything as if he had nothing to lose.

Taking the center court today in an effort to move at least one top seed into the second round was Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif. Mrs. King, ranked No. 1 among the women, meets Jeanne Arth of St. Paul, Minn. in the day's opener.

Also on the center court will be 16-year-old Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., whose victory over Virginia Wade

Would Prevent the Senators From Moving

WASHINGTON (AP) — The D.C. City Council will file a suit to prohibit the Washington Senators by an injunction to move their baseball franchise, WTTG-TV said Wednesday night.

The station said Council Chairman Gilbert Hahn will hold a news conference to make the announcement on Friday. The suit will be filed in U.S. District Court.

Attempts at court injunctions to prohibit a baseball team from moving have been tried before, the last time in Milwaukee. None of the previous attempts was successful.

Patriots to Display Their New Star

The New England Patriots will display their bright new star before the house fans in their new showcase Sunday, hoping it will be the start of a long and happy relationship.

Jim Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Stanford on whom the Patriots spent the top pick in last year's National Football League draft—and a bundle of money—has been named by New England Coach John Mazur to start at quarterback against the Atlanta Falcons in a preseason game in new Schaeffer Stadium in Foxboro, Mass., Sunday.

Plunkett, used in relief of veteran Mike Taliaferro in the Patriots' exhibitions to date, drew rave reviews for his performance against Los Angeles in New England's 31-21 loss last Sunday.

"I think he'll be a star for sure," declared Deacon Jones, the Rams' premier defensive end. "Make that a super-star."

Plunkett came off the bench late in the first half and completed 9 of 21 passes for 99 yards. He also carried the ball three times for 29 yards, including a 10-yard quarterback keeper for a touchdown.

"I think a lot of him," said Ram coach Tommy Prothro, who saw Plunkett as a colleague when he was coaching at UCLA and Plunkett was quarterbacking for Stanford.

"He has an awfully quick arm and sees open receivers. He can run with the ball, too, and could give the pros a whole new defensive problem," Prothro commented.

Mazur—and the 53,000 fans expected at Foxboro Sunday—are hoping so.

Other pro teams were busy shuffling their rosters as the regular season nears.

The Los Angeles Rams seeking to bolster their offensive line, acquired tackle Joe Carroll, a 6-foot-2, 265-pounder from Notre Dame, from the Philadelphia Eagles for a draft choice. Carroll, entering his 10th season of pro ball, started his career with the Rams but went to the Eagles in 1969 in the trade involving tackle Bob Brown.

The Rams also traded Dick Evey, a 6-4, 245-pound defensive tackle, to the Detroit Lions for a draft choice. Evey was obtained from the Chicago Bears in 1970 and was a reserve with Los Angeles last season.

Cleveland sent middle line-backer Bob Matheson to the Miami Dolphins. The Browns obtained a second draft choice in exchange for the 6-4, 240-pounder who was a first round draft choice by the Browns in 1967.

Among the players to get the ax Wednesday was Chip Kell, an All-American offensive guard at the University of Tennessee, cut by the San Diego Chargers.

The New England Patriots picked up three players on waivers, including Rickie Harris, a 5-10, 182-pound seven-year veteran obtained from the Washington Redskins.

Lee Trevino Returning to Pro Tour

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Super Mex Lee Trevino, out of action for a month, returns to the pro golf tour Friday in the first round of the $10,000 Greater Hartford Open.

There had been some doubt that golf's new super star would be able to play, but Trevino telephoned from the Southwest Tuesday and said he would be on hand for the 72 hole event that has a Friday-through-Monday format because of the Labor Day weekend.

He was expected to arrive for the pro-am event sometime Thursday.

Trevino, who made an unprecedented sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open championships this summer, hasn't played since the National Team Championship in Ligonier, Pa. four weeks ago.

The travel-weary Trevino, who had played tournament golf for four months in a row before that, took time off to attend Lee Trevino Day festivities in El Paso, Tex., and Juarez, Mexico, took a vacation in Acapulco, Mexico, then was delayed on his return to competitive play by an emergency appendectomy in Truth or Consequences, N.M.

That was a little over two weeks ago and Trevino has had little practice since then.

He has said before that he usually doesn't play well immediately after a lay-off, but, as a five-time winner this season, he's certain to be among the favorites for the $22,000 first prize here.

Speedy Crown Learns His Lesson Well

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Howard Beissinger trained Speedy Crown lightly last year "to manner and educate him." The bay son of Speedy Scot learned his lessons well.

Speedy Crown is the new champion of the 3-year-old trotters, winner of the Hambletonian classic in straight heats of 1:57 2-5 and 1:59 1-5.

Beissinger did not nominate the foal of Missile Toe for the Springfield, Ill., and Indianapolis, Ind., stakes because

Light Work for Porkers, Is Ordered

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles said Wednesday the Arkansas Razorbacks would lighten their practices the rest of the week because of a virus that has made its rounds among the players.

Broyles said many players the colt was the mare's first offspring and "I didn't expect him to turn out this well—I didn't want to splurge."

The colt was bred by Mrs. Beissinger at the family's Hamilton, Ohio, farm. His sire, Speedy Scot, won the 1963 Hambletonian.

"I raced him lightly last year to manner and educate him," Beissinger explained. Speedy crown responded well for his teacher Wednesday, capturing $64,885 in the classic.

Speedy Crown brushed off a midway challenge by Hoot Speed, the 2-1 favorite to take the first heat of the Hambletonian by three lengths. The time has been bettered in the Hambletonian only by the race record of 1:56 4-5 set by Ayres in 1964.

were feeling bad Wednesday. He said the defense had been hardest hit.

"The defense had some players who didn't feel too good Wednesday," said Broyles. "We had a run of virus through the team. It slowed us down some."

The offense worked Wednesday in a controlled scrimmage against members of the freshman team. Quarterback Joe Ferguson was hot as he completed 22 of 37 pass attempts for 498 yards and three touchdowns.

Back - up quarterback John Jenkins went to the air 23 times and had 12 completions for 156 yards.

Indians Have Productive Scrimmage

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State Coach Bill Davidson said Wednesday that a 1½ hour scrimmage held by the Indians was "highly productive."

He said there were some big plays by both the offense and the defense, but "I was especially tickled with our defensive play."

Tailback Calvin Harrell missed Wednesday's practice with a pulled hip muscle.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

GENERATION RAP

A RE-RUN FOR THE ALSO RANS

Dear Sue:

You're closer to this problem so I'm asking YOU. (No offense, Helen)

I'm black. I tried out for cheer leading and was one of seven chosen. What hassles me is: I'm afraid I am the "token Negro." Some of the girls that didn't make it were as good - I'm sure even better - but one-tenth of our school is Minority Race, so one out of seven on the squad has to represent "us."

If I resign, MY people will be mad and, if I stay on, some of the whites will resent me, and I'll feel cruddy. I'm tired of being praised as "the first Negro girl" to do this and that, like it's some kind of startling miracle. But, at least, I've thought I deserved the other honors. This time, I'm doubtful. Should I ask for another try-out and insist that the best girl wins? —TOKEN BLACK

I think this would prove beyond anyone's doubt that you deserve ALL the honors you've won. Good luck! —SUE

Dear Helen and Sue:

My problem is this chick I used to go with. She wants to try making it with me again. But I've gone with her twice before and both times she quit me for the same guy. Sure, I had a part in our disputes, being a little hot-tempered, but I like her an awful lot.

Should we give it another whirl? —CAN'T DECIDE
SUE SAYS:
If you keep taking her back, she'll keep right on ditching you when the other fella becomes available again. I'd tell this chick to go lay an egg. —SUE
HELEN SAYS:
Dear Can't:
I'm not as tough as my daughter. Inasmuch as you admit you had "a part in some of the disputes" I'd say, "Take this chick out again, but have a solid agreement you can each date others." —H.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Bronchiectasis Is a Lung Disease

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like some information on the disease bronchiectasis. How can it be diagnosed to determine if one has it? What are the symptoms? Is there a special treatment for it? Can it be cured?

Dear Reader — Bronchiectasis is a disease of the lungs. The large trachea or windpipe separates into right and left bronchi for the right and left lungs. These continue to branch out like a tree into smaller and smaller air passageways. These are called the bronchi. When the wall of these or any part of the bronchial tree begins to dilate too much and become a sacculus or dilated structure, it is called bronchiectasis.

The normal elasticity of the bronchial tubes affected is lost. The small hairlike projections and ways of moving out bronchial secretions is lost. The net result is that lung secretions pool in the enlarged dilated bronchial tubes. This gives rise to the most common symptom—a chronic cough.

The cough usually brings up fluid—often at least two tablespoons a day and sometimes much more. In the early stages, the fluid is relatively odorless, but as the disease progresses and more fluid is trapped, or if there is an associated infection, the fluid can develop a foul odor. The two most common symptoms of bronchiectasis are a chronic cough and coughing up a lot of sputum. The patient may otherwise feel well, unless a lot of the lung is involved.

Less commonly, a person may have "dry bronchiectasis" with a cough but no sputum. These individuals sometimes bleed and start coughing up blood.

A plain X ray of the chest usually shows evidence of the enlarged and dilated bronchial tree. A more exact diagnosis can be made by putting a dye in the bronchial tree that outlines the bronchi more clearly on X-ray studies. (This is not a simple procedure.)

Treatment consists of "postural drainage" daily. Since the lower bronchial tree is usually involved, the person should assume a position with the head down so the collected secretions can drain out, just like emptying a bottle. A minimum of 30 minutes a day of postural drainage is advised. The biggest complication is infection and appropriate antibiotic treatment is often necessary.

In certain cases, surgical removal of the affected bronchi is advisable. Whether to use medical or surgical treatment has to be decided in each individual case after a careful evaluation to determine the extent of the disease. It is wise for individuals with bronchiectasis to minimize the probability of respiratory infections. That means staying away from people with "colds."

Those South players who simply use the last two letters of "ARCH" would waste little time with today's hand.

They would Count just three losers. The ace and king of trumps and the ace of diamonds. They would ask themselves, "How can we make this hand?" and note that they could simply knock out the ace and king of trumps and then concede a trick to the ace of diamonds.

After that start they would lead a trump at trick two. East would take his king and lead another spade. They would win and play a second trump. West would win that and lead a diamond to East's ace. East would lead a third spade and West would ruff for the fourth defensive trick.

Better declarers would analyze the lead as the top of a doubleton. They would note that potential fourth loser and look to see if they could do anything about it.

After a little thought they would see the possibilities of the diamonds. After winning the first trick in dummy, the king of diamonds would be led. Should East duck they would find a way to avoid the loss of a diamond trick. Should East win and lead back a spade, South would win in his hand and discard dummy's last two spades on the queen and jack of diamonds. Then he would ruff his last spade and then play trumps.

Glass Sparks Blues Over Travelers

MEMPHIS (AP) — Memphis pitcher John Glass banged out three hits and went the distance to spark the Blues to a 5-2 victory over the Arkansas Travelers Wednesday night.

Glass, who hiked his record to 12-6, survived a shaky start. The Travelers left five men on base in the first three innings.

Arkansas got off to a 2-1 lead in the third inning when Kenny Ritz slammed a two-run home run. Glass settled down then and allowed only three base runners after the third inning.

Memphis scored two runs in the fourth inning to take a 3-2 lead. Glass singled and Terry Deremer beat out an infield hit. With two out, Larry Fritz singled home Glass. Deremer then scored when Jorge Roque's throw to third sailed into the dugout.

The Travelers have clinched the pennant in the Central Division of the Dixie Association.

Jackie to Skip Center Opening

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Onassis has cited private and personal reasons for deciding not to attend the formal opening of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The announcement was made Wednesday through a press spokesman in New York for Mrs. Onassis, who was wife of the late president for whom the national cultural center is named.

Now Mrs. Aristotle Onassis, she had left it be known months ago that she was planning to attend next Wednesday's official opening, which will feature a "Mass" composed at her request by Leonard Bernstein.

Other members of the Kennedy family are planning to attend Wednesday night's performance.

President and Mrs. Nixon had decided not to attend the opening because they were turning over the presidential box to Mrs. Onassis and did not want to attract attention away from her.

Most Endearing Romance in Washington

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Day after day he is there, moving silently about the modest room or slumped in uneasy sleep, that he may be near his frail, beloved Harriet.

It is the final scene of perhaps the tenderest, most enduring romance known to Washington, this vigil of John McCormack's.

In a sense, it is over already, for the doctors say his dying wife, while conscious, has slipped beyond the point of knowing him.

For 51 years they have been together, years which brought him unusual tumult and triumph in a profession noted for rending men from their mates. Yet there was seldom an evening in which Speaker and Mrs. John William McCormack dined separately, and never a night in which they slept apart.

Now he is resolute that they shall not be apart at the end, dismissing the offers of nurses or friends to take up the watch and free him for a time from the antiseptic walls of Providence Hospital.

"This is not a sacrifice," he has said, his gaunt frame draped over a leather armchair beneath the fifth-floor window. "And it is not a duty. I want to be with Harriet, and I will be."

Rarely does he venture even into the outside corridor. He had a door cut between his room and Harriet's so that he could hear her and be at her side more quickly. Other than that, the facilities offer no special privilege, no extra space.

Save for an occasional visitor—they have no children—McCormack plays out these twilight moments alone and with consummate simplicity.

Upon returning to his room, he often drops to his knees beneath the portrait of Jesus of Gethsemane, his white mane tumbling forward over his prayerful face. He is a devout Roman Catholic, once decorated by the Pope. Still, the gesture might seem odd to those more familiar with his rough and tumble reputation, his closed-door, close-crony politics, his penchant for poker and cigar smoke.

He is a man, after all, who gloried in the time-worn sobriquet "The Fighting Irishman of South Boston," and, after 42 years in Congress and eight as speaker, this lonely and serene picture of John McCormack seems strikingly amiss.

Those close to him say he harbors no bitterness in consideration of the cruel twist that hospitalized his 87-year-old wife 14 months ago just as he was about to announce his retirement from public office.

They had wanted to return to the same second-floor flat they had taken up as newlyweds in Boston.

John McCormack was only 13 when his father died and it fell to him to keep the family together. He dropped out of school, but managed to read law at night, paying an attorney $3 a lesson, and passed the Massachusetts bar at 21.

McCormack went into politics almost immediately, drumming up votes from the back of a horse-drawn peddler's wagon. He was a state senator when he met Harriet Joyce, a member of the Metropolitan Opera.

Since then he has served 21 terms in Congress.

Decision on Cahill in the Mill

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Immigration officials called a special inquiry today to decide whether Joe Cahill, head of the militant provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army, will be allowed to enter the United States.

Cahill was denied immediate entrance when he arrived at Kennedy Airport Wednesday night. Immigration authorities said the State Department had ordered his visa canceled.

The fiery 51-year-old leader, who had planned a four-week tour of U.S. cities to raise money for guns and ammunition, spent the night at an immigration detention center in Manhattan.

A hearing was set before a special inquiry officer of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to determine whether Cahill could remain or would have to return to Ireland.

U.S. Workers Complain of Pressure

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators are checking complaints from government employees that they are being pressured into joining race relations group encounters that border on invasion of privacy.

Alice D. walked out on one such session because, she said, "it got her down to sex life and just downright uncalled-for vulgar language."

Her boss in an Agriculture Department agency insists the meetings are an earnest attempt "to carry out President Nixon's directives to end racial discrimination in government."

The official referred to the meetings as "workshops."

Although some people call them "touch and tell" or "conflict and confrontation" sessions, "We say it's sensitivity training," said a Senate constitutional rights subcommittee investigator.

"And whatever it's called, this is clearly over the line into a worker's personal privacy. The government just doesn't have any business getting inside my head and certainly no business trying to change the way I think," he added.

Executive agency defenders of the program deny it involves formal sensitivity training. But they say the sessions are considered sensitive in the sense that they sometimes touch deeply rooted racial views.

Subcommittee Chairman Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., says it is "still not known how extensive it is in the government or the range of techniques being used by various agencies."

Complaints began coming in this year, the subcommittee staff reports, such as the case of Alice D.—not her real name.

"What they were trying to impress us with may have been necessary, which I doubt, but the way they said it was filthy," she said.

In describing a lynching, she said, "they discussed the anatomy quite frankly. At this time I raised the reported totals for the war to:

United States—45,471 killed in action; 9,742 dead from nonhostile causes; 301,456 wounded.

South Vietnam—132,463 killed in action; 286,793 wounded in action.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—788,007 killed in action.

The U.S. Navy announced that as part of the Vietnamization program it has turned over its Qui Nhon Support Base to the South Vietnamese. The base 275 miles northeast of Saigon provides logistic support and repair facilities for Vietnamese naval forces operating off the central coast.

Today was North Vietnam's national day, the 26th anniversary of Ho Chi Minh's proclamation of Vietnamese independence, but there was no great upsurge in enemy activity as there has been on other such Communist holidays in the past.

The U.S. Command reported no significant attacks against American forces.

asked if this kind of language was really necessary in front of women and unmarried girls. Then I walked out."

Alice's superior replied that he was sorry she did not find such training "to be the worthwhile experience that most of the other 2,000 employees who have attended found it to be."

In another case, say subcommittee sources, the General Services Administration had ordered its employees to submit to touch-and-tell sessions run by sociologists, and described by sponsors as being aimed at learning "self-disclosure, self-awareness and non-possessive caring, risk-taking, trust, acceptance and feedback."

According to a booklet sample turned over to the subcommittee, couples were being asked to look each other in the eye and hold hands while completing such phrases as: "My most frequent daydreams are about ... I am most ashamed of ... interracial dating and/or marriage makes me feel..."

Says Civilians Not Gathered and Killed

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL,
Associated Press Writer
FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — "At no time were civilians gathered together and killed by Charlie Company," Col. Oran K. Henderson wrote his commanding general five weeks after the My Lai massacre.

The first public quotation from Henderson's April 24, 1968, report was read Wednesday at a court-martial where the former brigade commander faces charges of trying to conceal "the intentional infliction of death or injury upon non-combatants."

Henderson, in the 1½-page report to Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, who commanded the Americal Division, said he arrived at the conclusion after interviewing four officers.

But on the witness stand one of the four, Maj. Charles C. Calhoun, the operations officer of Task Force Barker, said he had never been questioned by Henderson about the atrocities.

"I possibly could have been queried by Col. Henderson concerning the conduct of the operation," said Calhoun, now assigned at Ft. Monroe, Va. "I don't recall any questions about possible misconduct in the operation."

Maj. Carroll J. Tichenor, the prosecutor, asked, "Do you feel you would presently recall if you were questioned by Col. Henderson if people were gathered together and shot by Charlie Company?" Again Calhoun said he wasn't questioned.

Defense attorney Henry D. Rothblatt objected that Tichenor was trying through questions "to suggest what he can't prove," and nothing further was read from the letter.

In its investigation of the My Lai incident, a House subcommittee said the Henderson report briefly described the action, reported that 20 non-combatants were killed "and concluded that their deaths resulted when they were inadvertently caught in preparatory fire and cross fires."

Numerous witnesses have testified at previous My Lai trials that Charlie Company received no return fire in the March 16, 1968, search and destroy operation. Lt. William L. Calley Jr. was convicted of killing at least 22 civilians.

Of the four officers mentioned in Henderson's letter only Calhoun and Capt. Ernest Medina—Charlie Company's commander—are living. Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker, the Task Force commander and Capt. Earl R. Michaels, who commanded another infantry company, died in a helicopter crash three months after My Lai.

Medina has been charged with assaulting one civilian and the premeditated murder of 102 others at My Lai, but his court-martial, being held at Ft. McPherson, Ga., is in recess until Sept. 8.

Henderson's trial is in recess until Tuesday. However, a special hearing to determine whether Barker ever made a complete report on the operation will resume Friday. The hearing has run concurrently with the trial, but without the jury present.

Assistance for Pope and Yell

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pope and Yell counties area has been added to the list of areas in Arkansas eligible for assistance under the Public Works and Employment Development act.

J. Merle Lemley, administrator of the state Employment Security Division, said Wednesday that eligibility for assistance under the act is based on an annual average unemployment rate of at least 6 per cent for the preceding calendar year.

He said the newly designated area had an average rate in 1970 of 6.1 per cent. The designation makes the area eligible for assistance in receiving grants for public works types of projects.

Oldest Insignia

The flaming bomb worn by members of the U.S. Army ordnance corps was adopted in 1832 and is said to be the oldest military insignia, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.
